What About Social Credit in Canada?

This series is an explanation of the Douglas Social Credit Plan. Mr. Williams, (W.) a Social Credit advocate, is explaining the plan to his friend, Mr. Jones (J.). The scene is Mr. Williams' home, and the conversation takes place during an evening visit.

By following this series to the conclusion the reader will clearly understand the problem which faces Canada.

PART III.

W. "Now we come to a very interesting subject—Money. The first thing is to define the word so that we know what we are talking about. What is money?"

J. "Well, er—do you want a definition?"

W. "No, thanks. I'll give you one. Money is as money does. That is, anything that performs the functions of money is money. Of course, if you want to go into realms of abstract philosophy—"

J. "Don't bother!"

W. "—you could say that money was just an idea. But to stay on earth, let us take Professor Walker's definition of money. "Money is any medium which has reached such a degree of acceptability that no matter what it is made of, and no matter why people want it no one will refuse it in exchange for his product." As a definition I find it satisfactory. What about you?"

J. "Well, I suppose so. When you come to think of it, men through the ages have used all kinds of things as money. Beds, stones, playing cards, and I believe I read once where tobacco was used in some parts of the States as a medium of exchange."

W. "Yes, and at one stage we chose metals for their convenience and durability but we passed on to a paper currency and today the great bulk of our money is neither paper nor metal."

J. "What is it then?"

W. "Bank credit drawn by cheque."

J. "Oh yes, I forget that. But wait—those cheques—they are only paper documents representing real cash?"

W. "Now, Jones, you don't mean to tell me that as a business man, constantly using the credit facilities of a banking institution, you think bank lends money? Do you ever take out the cash when you obtain a loan? Don't you transact all of your business by drawing on that account by cheques?"

J. "Yes, but the bank must have the money before they can lend it."

W. "But I'm trying to tell you—banks don't lend money."

J. "Well, what do they do?"

W. "They lend credit which acts as money. It is created by a stroke of the pen, and costs them practically nothing."

J. "Oh come now. What are you trying to put over. Is this some of your Social Credit ideas?"

W. "Don't make me laugh. I'm still talking orthodox economics. We recognize it in the Social Credit analysis because it is a fact and every informed individual must realize it. But you still look incredulous."

J. "Yes, I don't get that at all."

W. "Well, I suppose I could spend a lot of time arguing on my own trying to convince you but I expect if you don't believe me you'll believe the statements of banking bankers and orthodox economists."

J. "Why, yes. Can you show me such evidence?"

W. "Take back at the Encyclopedia Britannica. Jones, do

Literary Club Meeting

The Ladies Literary Society was entertained Thursday at the home of Mrs. Zetella Taylor. A continuation of the study of Japanese Literature was the subject for the day with Mrs. Helen K. Orgill in charge. Short story masterpieces by Japanese authors and several types of fairy tales were presented. Mrs. Valeria Allen, accompanied by Mrs. Ethel Tollestrup sang a selection from 'Madame Butterfly' and three Japanese children dressed in national costumes, gave readings. Owing to the resignation of Mrs. Rachel Kirkham it was necessary to elect a new vice-president. Mrs. Edda Brandley was elected by acclamation. Mrs. Geneva Mendenhall was accepted as a new member of the society. Special guests included Mrs. Ethel Tollestrup, Mrs. V. Heggie and Mrs. Barbara Zabarskie. At the close of the afternoon a dainty lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Helva B. Ross. The next meeting will be held March 29th, at the home of Mrs. Norma Wood with Mrs. Grace Redd assisting when an introductory lesson on Russian Literature will be presented.

R. W. Tollestrup and son were busy Tuesday and Wednesday wiring the new Electric Store in the new Snow block. Lathing and plastering will be rushed now, that the top is closed in, which work was finished on Wednesday.

"LES" PALMER WINS AGAIN

Les Palmer, our genial Postmaster, received a pleasant surprise last week, when he was presented with a pair of 12 lb. Hudson Bay Blankets, being second prize in the Free Press Prairie Farmer for this winter. Last winter Les won first prize in Class C, and this winter he was boosted into Class B, which meant keener competition and more to compete against. Even at that he was second, which speaks well for his work, and also for the people of the district who support him so well each year in this contest.

you think that this is a reliable source of reference?"

J. "I should say so. I wish I had a set myself."

W. "Listen. On page 48 of Volume 3 of the latest edition of this Encyclopedia it says: 'Banks create credit. It is a mistake to suppose that bank credit is created to any important extent by the payment of money into the banks—it is credit money. It is a clear addition to the amount of the means of payment in the community. THE BANK DOES NOT LEND MONEY.'"

Now, that should be clear enough to convince you."

J. "Well, that sounds pretty clear. What section is it in? Is it in a part dealing with Socialism by a Socialist contributor?"

W. "Still unconvinced, eh? No, it is not in any such section. It is under the section headed Banking and Credit. But wait. I'll pile up so much evidence that you will be smothered. Don't interrupt me now while I give you some evidence that I have collected from various sources."

Jacks Win Twice Over Moose Domers

Playing before small crowds on Friday and Saturday nights last, the Raymond Union Jacks won both their games from the Calgary Moose Domers in rather listless exhibitions of the hoop game.

The weather was bitterly cold, which no doubt held many home, who otherwise would have been present, and coupled with that, was the very one-sided scores in the Lethbridge-Calgary games recently, which practically assured the locals of a win, and most people lose interest in sport unless contestants are pretty evenly matched and the battle fairly equal.

The game, were good to watch. The Calgary boys were minus the services of Lorn Pilling, playing-coach, and Allan Dick, both of these men being real assets to the team, and from the first were outplayed. But, at times they flashed basketball that was a real treat to watch, and that made the locals turn on the steam to the limit to keep track of them, and the long range shooting of Alexander and L. Olsen accounted for a number of points for the visitors, and some shots that were beautiful.

"Smiling" Sam led the scoring for 23 points, which is an individual high-point score for the season, and Sam was on every time he shot on Friday night it was too bad. Kirkham was second with 17 for the night. Alexander and L. Olsen led the scoring parade for the visitors.

The lineup and score:

MOOSE: L. Olsen, 8; Alexander, 12; N. Olsen, 2; D. Pilling, 2; Dick, 9; Wares, Total 34.

JACKS: O'Brien, 8; Kirkham, 17; Fairbanks, 23; Nilsson; Rolison, 2; West; Hague, Total 52.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Saturday night's game was a repetition of Friday night's encounter with the Jacks coming out on the long end of 63-33 score, with Dick O'Brien leading the sharpshooters with 26 points, beating Sam's record of the night before. He was simply "ON" with a vengeance and he must of had his rabbit's foot with him. Kirkham and Fairbanks who were the big racket Friday night, rather red to Dick who made them all count, and Saturday night every man on the local lineup got into the scoring column except West.

The visitors played ball all the time, and despite the one-sided score they won the hearts of the fans by their sportsmanship and their never say die attitude. They will always have a warm welcome in the Sugar City.

Bruce Galbraith and Earl Zemp handled both games in their usual quiet and efficient manner.

Saturday night's lineup and score:

MOOSE: L. Olsen, 10; Alexander, 2; N. Olsen, 9; Dick, 5; Pilling, 7; Wares, Total 33.

JACKS: O'Brien, 26; Kirkham, 13; Nilsson, 5; Rolison, 3; Fairbanks, 13; Nalder, 9; West, Total 65.

NOTES

Edgar Dick, who captained the visitors, showed some wonderful playing. With the handicap of a bad knee, he is good, without this handicap, he would be wonderful.

Donny "Kingbolt" Nilsson, was as usual, always in the

SEAMANS HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Farmers! If you are interested in the grasshopper question for the coming year, make it a point to be at the Board of Trade meeting in the Town Hall on Monday night next when H. L. Seamans, Dominion Entomologist of Lethbridge will speak on this and associated questions which are the cause of grave concern to all.

The meeting will commence at 8:15, and the public is invited.

Rotary Outpost Organized Here

With the presence of a number of Rotarians from Lethbridge at the Club Cafe luncheon last Wednesday, an outpost of the Lethbridge Rotary Club was organized here with T. Geo. Wood as President, L. L. Pack as Vice-President and J. O. Hicken, Secretary. There were eleven Charter members in this Outpost, and the official hope to make it a membership of 25. Meetings are to be held on the third Wednesday of each month.

Differing from regular Clubs in that meetings will be held only once each month, and that fees are considerably lower than in the ordinary Clubs, local members will be affiliated with Lethbridge and will be able to attend the regular weekly luncheons there whenever they are able to.

As this is an experiment, being about the only outpost so far organized, it will be watched with interest, and if successful, will be the means of bringing Rotary to thousands of members in smaller centres where a full-fledged Rotary Club is hard to feasible.

right place at the right time, and his lanky arms were a source of trouble to the visitors all the time. He got the tip-off regularly, and some of his bats nearly went out of the house.

Dick let out a howl of surprise when one of Sam's bullet passes went through his hands and smacked loud and clear on his chest, I guess it stung alright, for it was no pastime heave.

Mrs. Frank Taylor intercepted one pass, which broke her glasses and landed so hard the frames cut her face some. Besides making her face sore it spoiled her enjoyment of the remainder of the game.

It was amusing to see fur coats and overshoes so popular Friday night during the games. One was uncomfortable without them though.

If our fellows have an "ON" night with Lethbridge, it will be one of the greatest games ever played on the local court.

Big Doing Here On Saturday Night

Toronto Star Shows Increasing Popularity

When a publication shows the remarkable increase in circulation made by the Toronto Star Weekly during the past few years, it is evident that it must be a paper of exceptionally high merit.

The Star Weekly now has the highest circulation in its history and the largest circulation of any paper in Canada. During the last twelve months, its circulation has increased by 18,000 copies a week, showing that Canadians, whether times be good or bad, regard first class reading matter as a necessity.

In The Star Weekly, Canadians find news and features in which they are keenly interested, written from a Canadian viewpoint. The Star Weekly is produced in Canada, by Canadians, for Canadians. Both its reading matter and its pictures interest every member of the family from the youngest to the oldest. It is a cherry, youth ful publication, stimulating and vigorous.

The Star Weekly in fact is five newspapers, in one.

The Rotogravure section presents the world in pictures, including not only photographs but paintings of Canadian subjects, done specially for the Star Weekly by leading Canadian artists.

Its sixteen full-size pages of carefully selected colored comics and cut-outs is a feature in which the younger members of the family find unending pleasure, shared by adults.

There are also two magazine sections, crowded with articles, fiction and departments where the principal aim is to make the paper interesting and entertaining as well as informative. The fiction, by well known writers both of Canada and the world, is spirited and inspiring, with none of the slowness and morbidness which are distasteful to so many people. The movies and the radio have special departments to themselves, with the latest news and pictures of these two most popular arts. The Star Weekly Kitchen is an authoritative presentation of cooking for the homemaker and Star Weekly fashions are up-to-date and practical.

Besides all this, there is a complete section of news, including both Canadian and foreign events, with special emphasis also on sports.

Looking over The Star Weekly, one cannot fail to be impressed by the tremendous money's worth found in it, a week-end's entertainment for the whole family at ten cents.

It's the thrill of a lifetime, "Tarzan, the Fearless" at the Capitol Theatre, Monday.

Glen Miller of Magrath faced the sub-zero temperature and attended the Basketball game here Saturday night last.

Pack up your troubles and see Slim Summerville and Zazu Pitts in "Love, Honor and Oh Baby" at the Capitol, Friday and Saturday.

"Lethbridge shooting north, Raymond shooting south, spectators will kindly keep their feet back of the lines." Up goes the referee, and the great game is on, and the huge crowd on its toes from the very first whistle. That will be the beginning of the story, and probably the first chapter is all that is necessary to write.

When the Liberals and Jacks meet Saturday night it will be a crucial and exciting game. Last time the crowd could hardly be taken care of. This time, with interest redoubled and the League championship at stake, it will be worse than ever. If anyone wants a good seat, except the reserved seat holders, it will mean getting there early and then, hardest of all, staying put.

The reserved seats went in nothing flat. Bleachers are being put on the stage, and every thing possible being done to accommodate everyone who wants to see the game. So, Mr. Phan, come on out, the boys need your support, and you will see a game that will make your blood tingle, and probably spoil your sleep for the rest of the night too, but that's not very serious. We can all sleep when we can't see battles in Basketball for league championship.

FIRST WARD HOLD RELIEF SOCIETY PARTY

A housewarming and testimonial to the pres. Mrs. Lillian C. Roberts, was the feature of the 1st ward Relief Society, February 20th. The society has recently redecorated their assembly room which now presents an artistic, homey atmosphere and they have also equipped an adjoining kitchen sufficient to serve banquets to sixty. The activities of the afternoon began at 2 o'clock when a turkey dinner was served to all the officers and members of the society. Two tables set the length of the room and centered with bouquets of flowers held hand decorated place cards for eight-eight guests. The Valentine season furnished the motif for the decorative scheme. A profusion of early pussy-willows also were arranged about the room. A short address of welcome was made by Mrs. Georgina O'Brien, after which Mrs. May Meeks in a few well chosen words eulogized the work of Mrs. Roberts and presented her with a set of six crystal sherbet glasses and plates, the gift of the members. The remaining officers of the organization presented Mrs. Meeks, 1st counselor, Mrs. Vanda Gray, 2nd counselor, and Mrs. Betsy H. Alred, secretary, with hand decorated china in appreciation of their labors, the presentation speech being made by Mrs. Vilo R. Snow. Mrs. Geneva Larsen read an original poem dedicated to Mrs. Roberts; Mrs. Norma Wood and Mrs. Melba Holmes rendered a duet; Mrs. Snow sang a soprano solo, "O Sole Mio;" Mrs. Ellen Winkler, Mrs. Verland Leavitt and Mrs. Verone Nalder gave a comic stunt. The afternoon closed with an inspirational progostication of the future of the daughters of the members by Rachel Kirkham, who left the feeling with her audience that their work was not in vain and that the coming generation would be strong to carry on.

C. D. Compton, and several local curlers, were in Lethbridge the first part of the week taking part in the Curling Bonspiel held there. They made a very creditable showing.

HAVE WE LEARNED OUR LESSON

We are of the opinion that a brighter day is dawning for all and sundry, and that next few years will see a gradual improvement in conditions, and a lessening of the stringency that has been upon us. Maybe we are mistaken, but at any rate it will not hurt us any to think something besides depression for a while at any rate.

With the prospect of better times, we are wondering how well we have learned our lesson with respect to financing, and whether we will endeavor to make our selves more sustaining, and carry on without depending entirely on credit? It may be that before very many months, if things do improve, we will loosen up on the old purse strings, and buy to the limit. We have no fault to find with this idea, if we will stop when the purse is empty. Too few of us do.

We have all discovered during the past few years that pork in the barrel, beef on the hook, eggs in the basket, cream and butter on the table, etcetra and all the rest of it is very nice and handy to have. We have also discovered that when there is no money to buy these things, we can and have produced them, and have taken joy and satisfaction in doing so. It would make a great deal of difference to our operations each year, if we prepared ahead to have a supply of all of these products, as well as vegetables, for the family table. It is not with the idea of lessening business at our stores, that this program should be followed, but it is in view of the fact that nearly every time, the people who go to the stores and butcher shops and CHARGE their bacon, butter, eggs, etc., are the ones who are unable to pay their bills, and when the end of the season comes, the storekeeper has their account, and very little else to show for the business, and while the farmer goes merrily on during the winter, probably on reduced rations in some lines the merchant is busy trying to keep his head above water, and carry on his business with a large number of the poor accounts on his books.

If we desire lasting and permanent prosperity, we must get down to cash for all our transactions except the big items such as implements, cars, trucks, homes, etc., and the sooner we arrive at this happy condition, the better it will be for all of us, as we can then quit the present game of dodging the men we owe, and sneaking off elsewhere with our cash when we have a little to spend. Think it over friends. Our small business men cannot afford to carry our financial load and we should get to the point pretty soon when we could quit asking them to do so. When we adopt a little more of the golden rule, and at least try to play honest with each other then the road will not be so dreary and discouraging for those who do try to play the game.

YOUR MERCHANT A FRIEND

The following from the Grande Prairie Herald applies equally to this town:

"The merchants of Grande Prairie and other towns have sufficient money on their books to finance a Central Bank for Dominion of Canada and still have enough left over to build two or three Coast Outlets for the Peace River country."

"In some instances the money has been owing for a considerable length of time. And in the majority of these instances it is a considerable length of time since the individual who owes the money has been in the merchant's store. Let it clearly illustrate what we mean. "Suppose, for instance, that we owe a grocery bill of $50, and a hardware bill of $25. The grocery man and the hardware man have each sent us a regular monthly statement showing the amount of our indebtedness. We become obsessed with the idea that we are the only person to whom they have sent a statement of account and because we have not sufficient money to liquidate the debt we make up our mind to dodge them for awhile.

"We came down town to get some groceries and a kettle. Thank goodness there were other grocery stores and other hardware stores in the town! We have twelve dollars in our pocket and walk into the store of our benefactors' opposition. We order the goods we wish and push out our chest as we pay cash for that which we buy. It might be possible that we will talk to the merchant about the nerve of some people who ask for credit.

"If only we had the sense to walk into our regular stores and give each of the merchants $5 each on account! They would have rightly thought that we were endeavoring to pay them off as quickly as possible, and because of this our credit would have remained unimpaired.

"Play fair with your local merchant. He has certainly played fair with you. If you owe him an account, walk right up to him and discuss it with him. Pay him something on account whenever you get the chance. His welfare is your welfare."

ANNUAL MEETING HELD

The Annual Meeting of the Municipal District of Sugar City was held in the Raymond Town Hall on Saturday afternoon last, at 1 p.m. It was a quiet meeting, and the reports of the Reeve and the Secretary Treasurer, were both accepted, after the usual questions and explanations, and these reports showed the District to be in good condition, with a credit balance this year of $4,121.11, as compared with a balance last year of $863.90.

Those present, the attendance being small on account of the weather, registered a unanimous vote of thanks to the Councilmen and other officials for the splendid way in which the affairs of the district had been managed during the past year.

The next business was the nomination of Councilors for the district of Stirling, Magrath and Raymond, Alma Brailey, retiring Councilman for the Stirling end of the district was re-elected. In the Magrath district Roy Matson had declined to run again, and Art Minor had already been elected from that district. In Raymond, Fred W. Romeril was the retiring member, and he was re-nominated and also Wm W. Wilde, so that an election will be held here Saturday to elect a member to represent Raymond on the 1934 Council.

SECOND WARD MEETING

The speakers at the Raymond Second Ward Sunday evening last were, Mrs. L. Bacon, Elders J. E. Meeks and Karl Gehmlich, who gave very interesting talks. Musical numbers were rendered by Mesdames Emma Burr and Emma Dahl, a Vocal Duett; and a Double Ladies Duett by Misses Muriel Webster, Laura McLean, Dorothy Strong and Mrs. Winnie Strong.

This is the second of a series of meetings, under the direction of the Bishopric, in which it is intended to have every person in the ward take part. The question is "who will be next?"

Welling News

Art and Jesse Wilde reports a very enjoyable trip to the coast.

The change in the weather was welcomed by the people. Bertha Eigard, who was operated on for appendicitis is improving nicely and will soon be home.

Mrs. Floyd Wilde was taken to Lethbridge where she is to undergo an operation.

Mr. A. M. Wilde is seriously ill in the hospital at Lethbridge.

Some of the returned missionaries attended the excursion to the temple on Wednesday.

On Friday the senior room of the school put on a very interesting program. The numbers were as follows:—Song by the school, O Canada; speech of welcome—Kay Kullock; duet—Melba and Lillie Wilde; adding match Gr. 6 girls beat the Gr. 6 boys; Robin Hood Hunting song—Elmer Wilde; humorous incidents—Melvin Pickett; trio—Elsie, Vaylatte and Eldon Peterson; talk on etiquette—Elsie, Peterson; trio—Olive, Donna and Loreen Wilde; recreation—Maxine Bullock; song Melvin Pickett accompanied by Eldon Peterson on the harmonica; chorus—Senior room; chorus—Junior room; duet—Carrel Wilde and Glena Foote. Closing song by the room—God Save the King. The school was entertained by some boxing and wrestling matches.

A dance was held on Thursday night in the amusement hall.

PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Prairie Provinces—Business conditions are better than a year ago, due to better wheat prices, a feeling of greater confidence, and the need of replenishing many articles. Employment figures are higher. Manufacturers of wearing apparel are fairly busy, and furniture factories more active; wood working and iron fabricating plants are quiet, although there is some improvement. The wholesale movement of clothing and food products is in reasonably good volume; hardware sales show improvement. Retail trade is seasonally quiet. Collections on current accounts are fairly good but there is little improvement in the collection of old debts. Price fluctuations on the grain market have been narrow during the past month and trading rather dull. Cash wheat closed on the 20th instant at 64 1/4 cts. Cattle of good killing quality have sold readily at firm to slightly higher prices. The hog market is quite strong and prices are high in comparison with a year ago. There is an increasing demand for horses, sales being effected at good prices. Feed shortage is becoming acute in certain districts, particularly in the drought areas of last year.—Bank of Montreal Monthly Bulletin.

News Notes

The Sunday Schools of the Stake had a Temple Excursion Wednesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Ross were Lethbridge visitors on Monday last.

The wind was blowing a near gale Wednesday afternoon, and had the air full of dust and dirt.

Ray Depew is moving a house from Magrath, and locating on the lot just north of J. E. Fisher's home, on Broadway.

The First Ward M. Men and Gleaners are sponsoring a dance in the Opera House on April 2nd. Their bills are already out, and they intend to make it an outstanding social event.

Automobile salesman from Lethbridge are becoming active again this year, and from appearances there may be quite a number of new cars sold in the town and district this year. Business is improving alright.

WEEKLY LETTER

Brooding baby chicks is a topic of interest at present and following the story on incubation two weeks ago your writer visited the Station poultry plant again to find out just how these incubator babies are cared for and particularly how they are fed and kept warm. The first batch of chicks have already arrived and the electrically heated battery brooder in the incubator room, where the chicks are being kept for 10 days or so before going into the brooder house, is a center of much activity as these youngsters demonstrate very nicely what a growing appetite is.

Three things particularly are being provided, including clean sanitary quarters, warmth and shelter and a balanced feed including plenty of clean warm water for drinking. The brooder house was thoroughly cleaned by scrubbing the floors, windows and lower part of the walls with a broom and using a lye solution made by putting one can of lye into three gallons of cold water. A hand brush was not used because this lye solution is very strong and would injure the skin. It needs to be handled very carefully. When dry the whole inside of the brooder house or pen was sprayed with a good disinfectant. Three days at least before the chicks are expected the brooder stove is started to dry out the floor and walls. At the same time the outside of the building is banked up with straw and manure. Dry straw is put in the house the day the chicks are put in. Regarding the stove, a coal burning type is used in the brooder house since it is easily the most economical and successful system of heating for conditions here. Moreover, the type and size of stove were emphasized by the Station Poultryman who pointed out that using soft coal a large capacity fire box with a wide bottom is essential for easy control and operation. A brooder stove of this type needs attention only once or twice a day, a filling of coal at 5 p.m. and a slight shaking in the morning, whereas smaller stoves of this type need attention four and five times every 24 hours. Another thing is that the thermostat wafer, the hollow disc that contracts and expands with change of temperature to control the draught of the stove, is replaced here every year. Its function is too vital to take any chances with an old instrument that is apt to go out of order when most needed probably. As soon as the chicks hatch they are put either into the battery brooder already mentioned, or into the brooder house or pen where they are first given a drink of luke warm water and then fed. The temperature, taken at the edge of the Hoover is kept as nearly as possible between 90 degrees and 95 degrees when the chicks first arrive. This temperature is gradually reduced about 1/2 degree a day until the chicks are 5 to 6 weeks old and they no longer need heat. Water is supplied in one-gallon earthenware fountains, one for every 50 chicks and the feed is given in hoppers that are designed especially to keep the feed clean and prevent the chicks from wasting it. A number of very excellent patented devices have been used here for this purpose and a very satisfactory home made hopper has been used. This is made with three laths, using one for the bottom and the other two for the sides, each being nailed at

to the top edge of the bottom lath. By sloping the sides a little the trough inside will measure somewhat less than one inch at the bottom and about 1 1/4 inches at the top. A wider trough would allow the chicks to waste feed. The feeding space allowed is one-half inch for each chick. The feed supplied consists of a chick starter mash and chick starter grain which are kept before the chicks at all times. The starter mash consists of 20 parts yellow corn meal, 20 of shorts, 20 of bran, 12 of oat groat chop, 10 of sifted meat meal, 10 of skim milk powder, 5 of fine bone meal, 2 1/2 of alfalfa leaf meal, 2 of charcoal, 2 of fine grit, 1/2 part fine salt and 1% of cod liver oil. The chick starter grain consists of, 40 parts cracked corn, 30 parts cracked wheat, 15 of pin head oats and 15 of rolled oats.

"WAS TAKING EVERY KIND OF DRUG FOR CONSTIPATION"

Then ALL-BRAN Brought Relief

Read this very enthusiastic letter:

"I am 34 years old and as far back in my life I have been constipated. I was so bad that I had one bowel movement every five or six days. I was taking every kind of drug known for constipation.

"Now for the last two months I have been eating a little ALL-BRAN night and morning and I have at least two to three bowel movements each day." Mr. Frank Piratzky (address furnished upon request).

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN is also a fine source of iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this safer than taking harmful patent medicines? Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Severe cases with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

You'll enjoy eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream—sugar or honey or fresh fruits added. Or, to use in cooking.

In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

A residence was moved from the south side of town recently on to a lot near L. L. Pack's.

SCHOOL PROGRAM A BIG SUCCESS

Friday Feb. 23—The Public School monthly program was an exceptionally good one. This is what happened: First we all sang the national anthem "O-Canada." Mr. Hicken then showed how to salute the flag which everyone did. After this he gave the school report for January.

Attendance 535 with 526 on the same month last year.

% Attendance 95.7

28 lates compared with 44 last year.

He gave our school motto which was "Let's like school". Everyone repeated it loudly. Our school String Orchestra played "Red Wing" and "My Hearts Tonight in Texas." We were then favored by a piano duett, "Marche Militaire" played by Sylvia Holmes and Ruth Watson. Billy Mehew sang, "Home on the Range." Steele Brewerton played a Piano solo. Two very good readings were given by Thurstan Smith and Katherine Allen. The program concluded by singing "God Save the King." Two members of the school board attended, and greatly enjoyed the program.

The school is eagerly looking forward to the program at the end of next month.

News Notes

Born to Mr. and Mrs. "Wit" Hague on Thursday morning, March 1st, a baby girl. Mother and babe are doing well.

The eastern States were in the grip of severe weather and raging storms over the weekend, when a number lost their lives through exposure, asphyxiation and so on.

W. A. Anderson was hauling this week for the foundation of a new home he intends building, just across the street south from Milton Strong's home.

The Idlers were beaten by a 51-38 score in Lethbridge Monday night against the "Y" Intermediates, and according to the Lethbridge Herald, this now ties the two teams for league leadership. It looks as though we may have a crack at two playdowns for the Provincial honors this year.

The 380 Reserved Seats put out for Saturday night's ball game were all sold before noon on Tuesday, and applications for nearly that many more had been received. Raymond sure takes its Basketball seriously, and support their team And who wouldn't!

Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Bessborough will be in the Lethbridge district and south of there on April 11th and 12th next. Whether or not Raymond & the Sugar Factory are on their itinerary we do not know, but it should be, and either through the Board of Trade or some other public body they should be invited to visit here.

Board meetings of the auxiliaries and Stake Priesthood Meeting were held Sunday last. Due to the cold weather the attendance was rather small, but the meeting was enjoyed by all present. T. Geo. Wood and Pres. H. S. Allen both spoke on the topic of "Dependability," especially in connection with the ecclesiastical positions we accept. Special missionaries were called to carry on the work in the southeast part of the province.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite,
MORLEY STUART, EDITOR
OF THE CAMBRIDGE (ENGLAND) DAILY NEWS, IN A TALK GIVEN BEFORE THE CAMBRIDGE PUBLICITY CLUB, IN PART SAID:

"The late Mr. William Farrow Taylor, the founder of the Cambridge Daily News, used to say that the ideal paper was one composed of half news and half advertisements. I believe that is a very reasonable proportion, but when the balance weighs down heavily on the advertisement side, an editor does not feel too happy. The trouble is sometimes caused by the late arrival of advertisements, which upsets all calculations.

"Though an editor might dislike the pressure of advertisements on the news columns, it does not mean, of course, that he does not believe in advertising. Proof's brought home many times that it pays to advertise, but I am sometimes surprised at the way advertisers go to work. It is, of course, entirely their own business but I do not understand the policy of those who pack as much into the space they take as a holiday maker crams into his suitcase. My own preference is for 'plenty of white.'

"There is one thing an editor has continually to fight against and that is the desire on the part of other people to secure free advertisements in the news columns. Every morning's post contains requests for publicity on behalf of causes and commodities. The movements might be very good ones, well deserving of support, but the trouble is that not one in twenty has the least logical connection or interest and one feels that even if space were found for the matter, it would not be read.

Some years ago I wasted so much time each morning opening envelopes and consigning their contents to the wastepaper basket that I hit on the idea of making a week's collection and seeing what it looked like in bulk. At the end of the week I spread it out, classified it and wrote an article for the 'Newspaper World' which I hoped might have the effect of lessening the flood. In one case the only effect it had was to bring stuff addressed to me personally instead of merely to 'The Editor.'

State Medicine Report

Considered to be one of the most complete and exhaustive reports on the subject of health insurance ever presented in Canada, the findings of a joint legislative committee representing all parties investigating the question for two years, was tabled in the Alberta legislature recently. Systems of Medical administration and operation in various parts of the world were examined, and careful consideration given to the many phases of the extension of medical services, especially as they apply to the province of Alberta.

To meet the special needs of this province, a form of contributory insurance is suggested for the more settled districts, under municipal direction, but for the frontier districts unable to maintain a complete medical service the commission recommends a state-subsidized medical doctor, assisted by a nurse. Some districts might be served by a nurse alone, while in others the supplementary work of travelling clinics would meet the need.

One of the important recommendations of the commission is that a state fund, centrally controlled and administered by a state board, be established for insurance carrier purposes. It further recommends that local advisory committees be established for each unit.

Many of the features, such as nursing services and clinics in pioneer districts, have been in operation in Alberta for some time. The scope of the new suggestions, completed medical and surgical coverage of the province, on a state plus contributory basis are far reaching and novel is that there is no particular area in the world where all the features involved can be found.

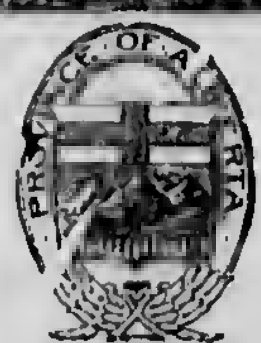

The report recommends that the minister of health be given statutory authority to constitute areas, as full-time health districts and to determine what proportion of the cost of administration shall be borne locally and what share by the province.

Under the $10,000,000 ultimate medical service scheme, there would be $3,593,647 for hospitals, $3,173,142 for doctors, $729,692 for drugs $1,499,190 for dentists and $475,800 for preventive care. In addition there would be $947,137 for administration and $189,429 for contingency reserve. The per capita cost would be $14.50 per year or $1.21 per month.

On the basis referred to in the report, an employee would be responsible for five-ninths of $1.21 per month for each of his dependents and himself or 67 cents per month. An individual not an employee would be responsible for seven-ninths of $1.21 per month for each of his dependents and himself, or 94 cents per month.

T. B. Deaths Decrease
The number of deaths from tuberculosis in Alberta, statistics show, is decreasing, and is now the third lowest from this disease among the Canadian provinces. The death rate is about 53 per 100,000 of population. Recent amendments to the public health regulations, give local boards of health or medical health officers authority to supervise any patient suffering from the disease in an infectious form, also giving power to order removal of patient to hospital or sanatorium.

OLD AGE PENSION
A total of $1,208,000 was paid in Old Age Pensions in Alberta in 1933, according to the annual report of the board. The number of persons receiving pensions as at December 31, 1933 was 5,987.
